& she did not think she could have another —

The refreshments — were really disgusting — they had Mahogy any looking glasses — with green veins in them! — Mrs S. thought $50.00 would buy all they had — Mrs Blodget went in — & says disgusted at the want of neatness in the serving — If her little girl should do any such work, she should shut her up — So says every one. Mrs H is in poor concern — they took $20 at the door the first day — have probably taken in many friends — but let people look out —

Mrs Fobes has sent an article $10.00 — Miss Roby $1.00 — Sarah Shumway

Walter Jarnsworth sent Shaw $2000 to do what the pleases with — Winslow has sent a pretty ish here for the Bell who is now printing fast. If you write home your ~~mother~~ sister how shall be glad — send them next Week — for the one just here —

Saturday Noon

I wrote the letter within before last - & have found no time to add a word since last night I was to Dick * that I should Bill up after School till about 9 this morn ing when I arrived & came in Town -

found Aleck no visual pile of Fisheries - & made out or two - Alex & Henry went to a board meeting at the office
no deliberate comment Bisbee - a letter from the Lessees - & the last Store man - ours read & one from Charles P Bowen Stating that the bond would satisfy Bishop I believe ~~has~~ now —

You see B - is stirring up all the mischief he can — The Board decided that it would be wrong to permit any such proceeding at the instance of individuals as others might be thereby aggrieved — Hines has no doubt that B is tampering with by R C - & even thinks Phelps wrote the questions Time will show -

I went up to see Mrs Adams - & found her very sorry for B's conduct - But thinking he is true - B. lives there you know - Got home there - looking look'd for some friendly face & found none & then ask'd where Mrs Chapman was - & Norman Scott - She had not yet come - Between the Misses Chesters - they two had not come - Miss Lolly Scott her heart sunk within her at the Precarity & Nothingness of all the Scene - & she was executing Mr Ory for bringing the cause so low - They pass'd over their English things but the Scene they were very ordinary - Just as they were going out of the Hall she met Miss Bale - A Gentleman big set on Many Broke - She Scott it take Why was she to stay in

She & Miss S came directly to Mrs Stuart's for comfort - & got it & many good advice & then went back & came her purchases - telling them she had been deceived - that she would on no account knowingly do any thing to obtain the B & E. S. - she should not take the things & she should be glad of her money - they demurred but at last Miss Bate returned the money which Mary brot. triumphantly back to Mrs Stuart when Miss Soley was waiting Miss S. has refused to go into her - She knows what she sees on sight - With them about 50 cents

& Fanny Anne Shaw
R G's youngest daughter here - mouth open - drinking in Antis & Lowry - She would hold out one longer - but determined to come to the light - She broke for the Swiss Paper folder - & would bring others to the fair — When Fanny Shaw a band Box - had been left from New Bedford with a note to Delora from A M Bailey - Anything to blend velvet tufted cushions & lamp Mats Thereupon as She had a friend spring to be married who would buy them at any price —
as Ann knew more of us in Auburn than most anyone we had no time to cast about us - but we made up what we had - & while we were thinking of send ing to the South Parks - for more things the Owen came & saw he must take the box instantly

I told him to tell Mrs B - when he saw her I should see - that you were come & Delora & that we were not at home when he note came - & that we had sent what we could spare in a hurry & would write by next Mail - this he promised to do -

Owen has written us satisfactory letter & got it off

All well as usual
